R4L: Copyright/User Agreement

- All registered institutions will sign a User Agreement covering:
 - Use of the programs' password
 - Copyright and Fair Use
- Agreement shall be available in your institution

Use of the R4L Password

- Do Please Share R4L username and password with colleagues, students, faculties in your institution
- Do not Share with those from outside the institution
- Do not Use outside the country – see next slide

Specific Situations - Outside the Country use (as of July 2018)

- Individual staff and faculty of an institution are permitted to use R4L during short-term professional trips outside the institutional environment including outside the country (e.g. 1 month maximum).
- Student at registered institutions may use R4L no matter where in the world they are located. Institutions with Distance Learning programmes should connect via IP-based logins but not distribute username and passwords to remote students.

Copyright and Fair Use

- Same as typical copyright and fair use principles: It is OK, for example, to:
 - Download or print up to 15% of a journal issue or book
 - Use material for educational purposes (course packs or reserves)
 - Make copies for institution members or students
- Be cautious but sensible

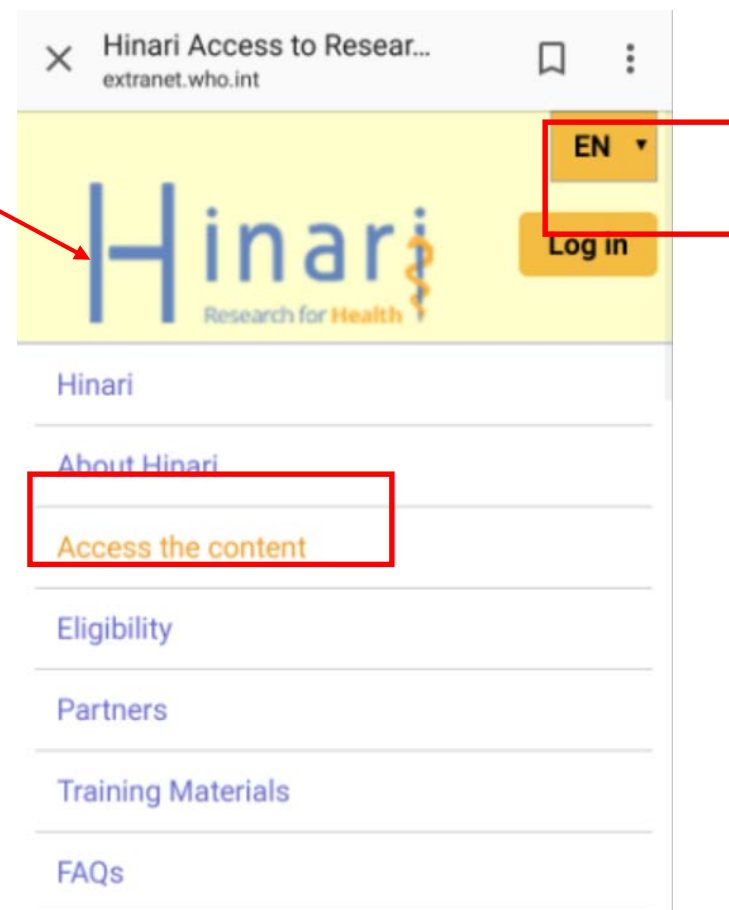

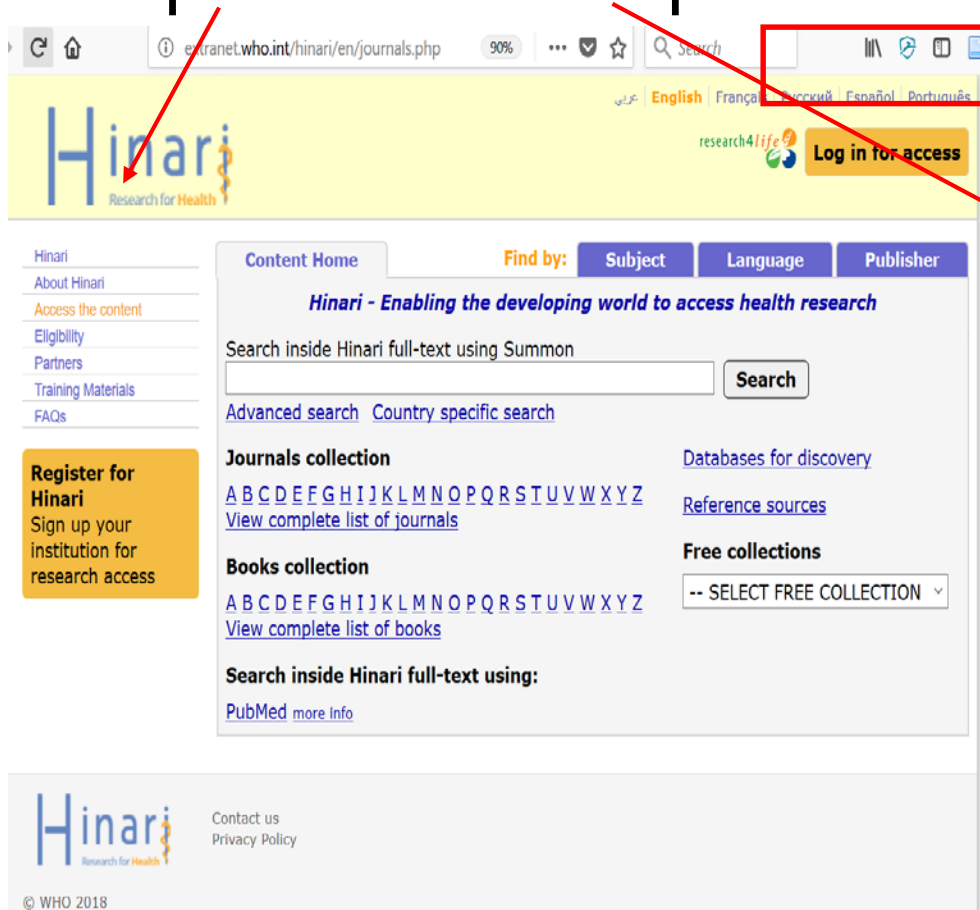

Abuse of Publisher Privileges

- It is NOT OK to:
 - Charge for documents, except for cost recovery for teaching materials
 - Post content to websites or blogs that are publically accessible
 - Change content
 - Download all articles from a single issue
- Violations result in the INSTITUTION or ENTIRE country denied access until the problem is resolved.

Hinari (or AGORA) can be accessed from either a computer or mobile phone – with Internet access

Problems? Email Lenny Rhine: rhinel@ufl.edu

The screenshot shows the AGORA Portal website. The browser address bar displays agora-journals.fao.org/content/en/journals.php. The website header includes the AGORA logo (Research in Agriculture) and a language selection menu with options: عربي, English, Français, Русский, Español, and Português. A 'research4life' logo and a 'Log in for access' button are also present. On the left sidebar, a menu lists: AGORA, About AGORA, Access the content, Eligibility, Partners, Training Materials, and FAQs. A red box highlights the 'How to register' button in the sidebar. A large green box with a red border contains the following text:

Your institution must be registered for you to gain access to the full-text electronic resources.

Click on the How to Register link to access the step-by-step guide – to see if your institution is registered or must complete this process.

For institutions who are not but could register, we have sent the registration information via email.

Exercise I – Accessing Journals by Title

- From the AGORA Content page, go to the Journals collection A-Z list.
- Find the Canadian Journal of Animal Science by clicking on C. Select it from the list by clicking on the title. (to scroll down, use the ALL option)
- The Canadian Journal of Animal Science will open on the publisher's website. Note: there are two options!
- What is the date, volume and issue number of the latest issue?
- Select an article from the latest issue available to you and open the full text.
- What are the title and author of the full-text article you viewed?
- Why you were interested in this article and could colleagues at your institution use the information?
- Return to the Journals collection A-Z list. Choose a journal of interest to you. Select an article of interest to you.
- When you have finished, return to the AGORA Content page.

Exercise 3 - Using the Publishers List Option

- From the AGORA Content page, click on the Publisher list from the page's horizontal bar. A drop down menu will appear.
- Open the list of journals for the publisher Bioline International.
- In AGORA, approximately how many journals are available from this publisher?
- What titles would be of interest to you or someone at your institution?
- From a title of interest to you, select the latest Issue and choose an article to open in full text. What are the title, author and issue of the full-text article you viewed?
- Click on a publisher of interest to you. Which AGORA journals listed are of specific interest and why?

What Is Summon?

- Summon is a Google-like search engine that provides fast, relevancy-ranked results:
- Enter the search terms into a single search box or select Advanced Search options from the results page
- Refine (limit) results by criteria such as date, subject, academic journals and other options
- View results, and link directly to full text or more details
- Contains links to AGORA resources in e-journals and e-books. All R4L programs have this tool.
